

Coach Allocco,

After I beat young E in one on one, he was so disgusted he ran me off so he could work on his shot.

After a few months of suffering with a shot that didn't feel right, he'd finally had enough.

The he remembered something coach Allocco had said about taping up your off-hand...

...and...

"Dad, dad, I fixed my shot!"

And I knew then he was pretty much set for life; he didn't cry or complain, he just went to work. During the offseason. Applying something from a teacher he respected.

Pretty awesome stuff.

Thanks probably isn't enough,
